Women and Heart Disease

RED DRESS SUNDAY

RAISING AWEARNESS:
RED DRESS SUNDAY

Red Dress Sunday is an innovative faith-based health initiative developed by St. Agnes Hospital designed to raise awareness of the devastating effects of heart disease.

MATTERS OF THE HEART: DID YOU KNOW?

Many women are still unaware that heart disease is the number one cause of death among women, with African Americans showing the highest prevalence of developing heart disease

GOOD NEWS!

Many risk factors for heart disease are preventable, Central Church of Christ Health Ministry with the support of Coppin State University Helene Fuld School of Nursing are committed to working to decrease the mortality rate of women related to cardiovascular disease. We encourage everyone to wear red as a visual reminder of the devastating effects of cardiovascular disease and to remind us to take care of our hearts.
